Seven Figures Private Charter — how this platform works, and how to use it privatecharters.se7enfigure.com · Se7enfigure inc.

WHAT THIS PLATFORM IS

Seven Figures Private Charter is a storefront for booking private charter flights. We do not fly aircraft and we do not take bookings ourselves: bookings are arranged by our charter partner — a broker whose network covers 10,000+ aircraft operated by 7,000+ operators, flying to 40,000+ destinations (our charter partner's published figures). Our partner sources the aircraft, quotes your trip, confirms your booking, and the flight itself is operated by a licensed third-party operator.

Two things follow from that, and they shape everything on this page: nothing is paid on this site (there is no checkout here), and all contact runs through us first — the only charter email address we publish is privatecharters@se7enfigure.com.

1 GETTING A PRICE ESTIMATE

Use the search at the top of the home page:

- Enter your departure and arrival airports — start typing a city or airport name and pick from the list shown.
- Add a date and passengers if you have them (you can also add them later, on the quote page).
- Pick an aircraft class — Light, Midsize or Heavy — or leave it on Any class.
- Select "See estimate". If our affiliate network has published an estimate for your route, you will see an estimated price range and the basis for it. If nothing has been published for that route, the site says "price on quote" — our charter partner prices that route inside a tailored quote instead.

Estimates are indicative published ranges, not final prices. Your firm price is set in the tailored quote, based on the aircraft, route and duration.

2 REQUESTING A QUOTE — THE TWO STEPS

Select "Request a quote" anywhere on the site (or "Continue to quote" under an estimate) and you land on our quote page. It has two short steps, both on this site:

- Step 1 — Your route. From, to, departure date and passengers, plus anything our charter partner should know: tick the boxes if you are travelling with pets, carrying extra luggage, or need wheelchair access, and add any notes in the box provided. A summary beside the form shows your trip and the published estimate for the route, where one exists.
- Step 2 — Aircraft class & confirm. Choose Light, Midsize or Heavy — each card shows the published range for your route in that class and how many passengers that class seats. Check the trip recap, then select the confirmation button.

That final button is the one step that takes you to our charter partner — and it does not send you there empty-handed: your route, date and passenger count are carried into their form, so all that remains to enter there is your name and email. Our charter partner then sources aircraft and returns tailored options — a personalised itinerary, typically within hours. If you accept a quote, you receive a booking confirmation setting out the aircraft, the total price, and what is payable to whom and when.

Timing: a charter can be arranged in as little as a few hours for urgent travel; booking 24–48 hours in advance gives the best aircraft selection.

3 EMPTY LEGS — THE LIVE BOARD

An empty leg is a flight an aircraft is already making without passengers — repositioning or returning to base. That one flight, on one fixed date, is offered at a reduced price: our charter partner offers empty legs at up to 75% off standard charter rates. The board on the home page lists live empty legs; each card shows the route, date, aircraft, seats and either a listed price or "Price on application".

To ask about one, select "Enquire about this flight" on its card. The quote page opens with that exact flight locked in — same two steps, and the final confirmation opens our charter partner's empty-legs board, where the flight is listed. Listings change as flights are sold, and availability is always confirmed in your quote.

4 SUPPORT AND CONTACT

The assistant. Select "Support" anywhere on the site and the page moves to the support section. The assistant there answers basic questions — booking, empty legs, prices, payments — from our charter partner's published information only. Anything beyond that, it will point you to the quote page or to email.

Email. The one address for everything charter-related is privatecharters@se7enfigure.com — quote requests, charter questions, and messages about an existing enquiry or booking (changes, cancellations, refunds). Everything sent there is forwarded to our charter partner so they can answer and quote, and their reply comes directly to your own email address. We publish no other charter email address and no charter phone number: contact runs through that address, so your request reaches the right desk with its details intact.

5 HOW PAYMENT WORKS

Nothing is paid on this site — there is no checkout and we take no payment. When you book, your booking confirmation sets out how payment works for your trip. As a broker, our charter partner typically splits it in two: the aircraft operator's charter fee is paid directly to the operator, and our charter partner's brokerage fee is paid to our charter partner. The total price in your booking confirmation includes both. Our charter partner accepts cards and bank transfer, and Bitcoin toward the brokerage fee it collects, via Stripe. You do not need a membership or a jet card — each trip is quoted and booked on its own, and you pay per flight, only when you fly.

Safety, as published by our charter partner: all aircraft in its network meet stringent safety standards including ARGUS and Wyvern certification, and every operator is vetted for safety record, maintenance standards and crew qualifications before being admitted to the network.

6 FOR INTRODUCERS AND REFERRERS

If you introduce clients to us — a travel advisor, concierge, or anyone whose clients fly privately — you receive your own tracked link to this site. It looks like the site address with a short tag on the end that names you (for example, `?src=introducer-yourname`).

- Send clients through your link, or pass their trip details to privatecharters@se7enfigure.com.
- Every enquiry through your link is credited to you — it appears under your tag in the reporting our charter partner provides, so introductions are visible and provable.

- Your client stays your client. Our charter partner quotes and books the trip; we never market to your clients, and replies about their trip go to them directly.
- Nothing changes about the trip itself — your clients follow exactly the steps in Sections 1–5.
